CONTENTS

List of Illustrations  xvii
About the Author xxv
Preface xxviii
Acknowledgments xxxvi

PART 1 OVERVIEW  1

1 The Origins of Genocide  3

Genocide in prehistory, antiquity, and early modernity  3
The Vendée uprising  9
Zulu genocide  11
Naming genocide: Raphael Lemkin  11
Defining genocide: The UN Convention  17
Bounding genocide: Comparative genocide studies  22
Discussion  28
What is destroyed in genocide?  39
Multiple and overlapping identities  45
Dynamism and contingency  48
The question of genocidal intent  49
Contested cases of genocide  51
Atlantic slavery—and after  51
Area bombing and nuclear warfare  53
The Biafra war  57
UN sanctions against Iraq  59
9/11: Terrorism as genocide?  60
Structural and institutional violence  62
Is genocide ever justified?  64
Further study  67
Notes  70
CONTENTS

2 State and Empire; War and Revolution 88

- The state, imperialism, and genocide 90
- Imperial famines 92
- The Congo “rubber terror” 98
- The Japanese in East and Southeast Asia 100
- The US in Indochina 102
- The Soviets in Afghanistan 106
- Imperial ascent and dissolution 111
- Genocide and war 117
  - The First World War and the dawn of industrial death 122
  - The Second World War and the “barbarization of warfare” 124
- Genocide and social revolution 126
- The nuclear revolution and “omnicide” 128
- Further study 130
- Notes 132

PART 2 CASES 145

3 Genocides of Indigenous Peoples 147

- Introduction 147
- Colonialism and the discourse of extinction 148
- The conquest of the Americas 150
  - Spanish America 150
  - The United States and Canada 153
  - Other genocidal strategies 160
- Australia’s Aborigines and the Namibian Hereros 163
  - Genocide in Australia 163
  - The Herero genocide 165
- Denying genocide, celebrating genocide 169
- Complexities and caveats 170
- Indigenous revival 173
- Further study 176
- Notes 178
- The genocide of Guatemala’s Mayans 187

4 The Ottoman Destruction of Christian Minorities 200

- Introduction 200
- Origins of the genocide 202
- War, deportation, and massacre 205
- The Armenian genocide 206
- The Assyrian genocide 215
- The Pontian Greek genocide 225
- Aftermath: Attempts at justice 229
- Turkey: Denial . . . and growing recognition 231
5 Stalin and Mao

The Soviet Union and Stalinism
1917: The Bolsheviks seize power
Collectivization and famine
The Gulag
The Great Purge of 1937–1938
The war years
The destruction of national minorities
China and Maoism
Stalin, Mao, and genocide
Further study
Notes
Chechnya

6 The Jewish Holocaust

Introduction
Origins
“Ordinary Germans” and the Nazis
The turn to mass murder
Debating the Holocaust
Intentionalists vs. functionalists
Jewish resistance
The Allies and the churches: Could the Jews have been saved?
Willing executioners?
Israel, the Palestinians, and the Holocaust
Is the Jewish Holocaust “uniquely unique”?
Further study
Notes
The Nazis’ other victims

7 Cambodia and the Khmer Rouge

Origins of the Khmer Rouge
War and revolution, 1970–1975
A genocidal ideology
A policy of “urbicide,” 1975
“Base people” vs. “New people”
Cambodia’s Holocaust, 1975–1979
Genocide against Buddhists and ethnic minorities
Aftermath: Politics and the quest for justice
Further study

CONTENTS

Notes 416
Indonesia and East Timor 419

8 Bosnia and Kosovo 432
Origins and onset 432
Gendercide and genocide in Bosnia 438
The international dimension 439
Kosovo, 1998–1999 444
Aftermaths 446
Images of Kosovo 451
Further study 452
Notes 453
Genocide in Bangladesh 457

9 Genocide in Africa’s Great Lakes Region 470
The African Great Lakes countries in regional context 471
Rwanda, 1994: horror and shame 473
Background to genocide 474
Genocidal frenzy 478
Congo and Africa’s “first world war” 487
1996–1997: The “genocide of the camps” 488
The Second Congo war 491
The Burundian imbroglio 494
Great Lakes aftermaths 498
Further study 502
Notes 503
Darfur, South Sudan, South Kordofan 511

Photo Essay  P1

PART 3 SOCIAL SCIENCE PERSPECTIVES 525

10 Psychological Perspectives 527
Narcissism, greed, fear, humiliation 528
Narcissism 528
Greed 531
Fear 534
Humiliation 539
The psychology of perpetrators 541
The Milgram experiments 542
The Stanford prison experiments 546
The psychology of rescuers 548
Further study 560
Notes 561

11 The Sociology and Anthropology of Genocide 572
Introduction 572
Sociological perspectives 573
  The sociology of modernity 573
Ethnicity and ethnic conflict 577
  Ethnic conflict and violence “specialists” 580
  “Middleman minorities” 583
Anthropological perspectives 585
Further study 594
Notes 596

12 Political Science and International Relations 602
Empirical investigations 603
The changing face of war 607
Democracy, war, and genocide/democide 611
Norms and prohibition regimes 614
Further study 620
Notes 621

13 Gendering Genocide 625
Gendercide vs. root-and-branch genocide 626
Women as genocidal targets 632
Gendercidal institutions 635
Genocidal men, genocidal women 640
A note on gendered propaganda 646
Further study 649
Notes 650

PART 4 THE FUTURE OF GENOCIDE 661

14 Memory, Forgetting, and Denial 663
Contested memories: three cases 664
  I. Germany 664
  II. Japan 669
  III. Argentina 673
Forgetting 677
Genocide denial: Motives and strategies 683
Denial and free speech 686
Further study 689
Notes 690
CONTENTS

15 Justice, Truth, and Redress  697
Leipzig, Constantinople, Nuremberg, Tokyo  698
The international criminal tribunals: Yugoslavia and Rwanda  705
  Juridical contributions  708
National trials  712
The “mixed tribunals”: Cambodia and Sierra Leone  714
Another kind of justice: Rwanda’s gacaca experiment  715
The Pinochet case  718
The International Criminal Court (ICC)  720
International citizens’ tribunals  723
Truth and reconciliation  724
The challenge of redress  734
  The role of apology  736
Further study  737
Notes  739

16 Strategies of Intervention and Prevention  749
Warning signs  751
Humanitarian intervention  760
  Sanctions  761
  The United Nations  762
When is military intervention justified?  763
  A standing “peace army”?  770
Ideologies and individuals  784
  The role of the honest witness  785
  Ideologies, religious and secular  788
  Personal responsibility  794
Conclusion  796
Further study  797
Notes  799

Index  809